3. Witness Narrative (Fictional)

I, Meena Raj, a fictional witness created for this sample, state that on 19 October 2026 at approximately 9:40 PM, I was near the public parking area by Central Market, Chennai. I noticed a person standing close to a dark-coloured two-wheeler. From where I was, I could not clearly see the person's face or identify them. I did not see the person take the motorcycle, and I cannot confirm whether any offence occurred. Later, I heard that a motorcycle had reportedly gone missing from the parking area. I have no direct knowledge of who owned the motorcycle or where it went. The above account is invented for application testing and is not a real witness statement.

4. Observation and Limitations

The fictional witness describes only a brief observation of an unidentified person near a dark-coloured two-wheeler. The witness does not claim to have seen a theft, cannot identify a suspect, and cannot independently verify the vehicle details. This statement must not be treated as corroboration of an actual incident.

5. Materials Referred To

No real photographs, CCTV footage, documents, or other materials were shown to or examined by this fictional witness. The AI-generated CCTV-style image associated with this sample case is not authentic footage and is not represented as having been viewed by the witness.

6. Declaration and Acknowledgment

For this demonstration only, the text above is a fictional narrative. In a real matter, a statement should accurately reflect what the witness personally recalls, be recorded by an authorized person in accordance with applicable law and procedure, and be reviewed for accuracy before any signature or acknowledgment.
